

252 BC

Consuls:

C. Aurelius Cotta

P. Servilius Geminus

Romans capture more towns in Sicily, including
Lipara and Thermae

252 BC

1912 Dates J-BK

Roman law

The Priests alone interpreted the law until 250 BC, when the office of PONTIFEX MAXIMUS was opened to a plebeian.

Roman civil law was not applicable to allies or conquered peoples unless expressly provided by treaty.